Bally hand control

12-29-81

Viewed from end of plug

Spyglass

red – trigger
green – JX right (JX = +1)
white – JX left (JX = -1)
* blue – JY up (JY = +1)
black – [redacted] knob (potentiometer) yellow – common to trigger and joystick brown – knob (potentiometer)
* orange – JY down (JY = -1)

Bally Basic Interface

Plug to hand control No. 3 from the interface is using only 3 wires to 3 plug pins : black, yellow and orange

Steve Walters sent this to me but the functions of the orange + blue wires are switched from the diagram in the Bally Basic instruction manual (pg. 100). Which is correct?